

UNSEEN WORLD

Filmmaker Woody Allen once said: “There is no question that there is an unseen world. The problem is, how far is it from midtown and how late is it open?” This is exactly the case with design in New York City. From jewelers to hotels to bakeries, innovation can be found everywhere!

I. FRENCH DECADENCE

Arcade Bakery

Although every trip to New York demands a busy schedule, we advise design aficionados to make sure they squeeze in some time to check out the hip and happening Tribeca neighborhood in order to enjoy Arcade Bakery. Located in the impressive hallway of the historic, majestic Merchant's Square Building on Church Street, the palette is simultaneously new and old, where existing terrazzo floors and limestone walls contrast with new mahogany and brass touches throughout. Make sure not to miss the series of fold-down tables and wooden panels, creating a series of alcoves for guests and an atmosphere of French decadence. If the warm design isn't enough, Arcade Bakery also offers the finest baguettes, croissants and quiches to be found. Please note, this modern bakery is only open Monday to Friday from 8am to 4pm. —

“The designer perfectly created a balance between past and present by using antique brass lighting and streamlined custom mahogany millwork”
